

Non-linear aspects of Calderón–Zygmund theory

Giuseppe Mingione (Parma, Italy)

Synopsis: Calderón–Zygmund theory is a classical tool that allows, in the case of linear problems, to derive sharp integrability properties of solutions starting from those of the given data. I will try to give an account of certain aspects which remain valid for non-linear equations.